CARDIN'S FACTORY

At View, Visited by Night Riders and Burned Saturday Night.

Fredonia, Ky., Feb. 9.—Night riders destroyed the tobacco factory and warehouse of A. H. Cardin, at View, in Crittenden, six miles from this city, after invading this place and putting the telephone lines out of commission. Thirty-five thousand pounds of tobacco were destroyed.

Twenty-five thousand pounds in the factory was the property of Buckner & Dunkerson, of Louisville, for which firm Mr. Cardin was the agent. The remaining 10,000 pounds was the property of Mr. Cardin and his tenants.

Mr. Cardin was the Populist nominee for Governor several years ago.

About 1:15 o'clock this morning 150 men masked and heavily armed rode into town and took charge of the East Tennessee Telephone Company's office.

The men cut the cables leading to the exchange and after warning Oscar Searberry, the assistant manager, not to make any repairs compelled him to show the way to the residence of C. B. Lloyd, a prominent merchant, in whose store are located the telephones of the Home Company.

The men called on Mr. Lloyd to dress and accompany a squad to his store. Mr. Lloyd complied and unlocked his store. The night riders cut the wires outside of the building and then tore the telephones from the walls.

Leaving a small guard to see that no attempt was made to communicate with the outside world the night riders rode to View. On reaching the residence of A. H. Cardin a hundred revolvers were discharged. Demand was made that Mr. Cardin come out. There was no answer and it was ascertained that Mr. Cardin and his family were not at home, they having gone to Evansville to attend the Dunkerson funeral.

Proceeding to the tobacco factory and warehouse nearby the riders applied the torch to the two big frame structures and they were soon reduced to ashes, 35,000 pounds of tobacco being destroyed with the buildings. The loss is estimated at between $30,000 and $35,000. The insurance is not known.

Many people peered from windows when the shots were fired and were immediately informed that it would be death for them to come out.

The riders left in a northerly direction at 4 o'clock this morning. Seventy-two of them watered their horses at Saratoga, seven miles from Eddyville. It is supposed to be the same band which burned the Bennett warehouse and distillery and whipped Henry Bennett and William Groves at Dycusburg. The riders are supposed to be from Crittenden, Trigg and Lyon counties.

The night riders claimed that Mr. Cardin had been buying independent tobacco while he is a member of the association.

Mr. Cardin learned of his loss when he returned here to-night. He went immediately to his residence.

A Card.

I desire to say to the tobacco growers of Crittenden county, who have pooled their tobacco, that the papers are now due to be returned and you must comply with the committee's request. I am expecting a call from the secretary any day now, for all Crittenden County Pooling Papers, and when the call is made I will forward to him at once all of such papers in my hands. Therefore, you see how necessary it is to send in your papers, if any out, at once.

It cost you nothing to pool tobacco, you do not have to belong to any society at all to pool your tobacco, just simply sign the pooling contract and you are a member of the Steming District Tobacco Association, without money or without price. It is an organization of its own, independent of all others.

Thanking our friends for the kindness which they have shown us in the past, I am as ever yours,

AARON TOWERY.

Committeeman for Crittenden county.

Card of Thanks.

Many, many thanks to the W. O. W. who stood by me during the illness of my dear husband, and to the good friends and neighbors for their kind assistance especially Roy and Ernest Conyer. May God's richest blessings rest upon them all in my prayer.

Letter from Henry Bennett.

EDITOR CRITTENDEN RECORD-PRESS:—To do as the night riders had me promise, I will give you a detailed statement of what happened.

The night riders, as they call themselves, came to my house about 1 o'clock and put guards over my house. We were sitting up with my son, Anson Bennett, who was very low with pneumonia. My sister-in-law was up at the time and had seen them at the window. She came to my room quietly and got me up and come in the room where the sick boy was and then went to the front door on veranda, came back wringing her hands and said to her, "You d— get in." She went the second time and received the same command. I then went back where my wife was sleeping and she got up and got my repeating gun and shells, but never would consent for me to shoot, saying Anson was so sick and they might set fire to the house. And about 2 o'clock they came in a body and began to line up in front of the house I think preparing to shoot it up, and then Mrs. Robinson, a sister-in-law, and my wife went into the hall and plead with them for the sick boy's sake, stating his condition and begging them to not molest us, but they answered and threatened to set fire to the house if I did not come out. They pushed them back for fully ten minutes and then Charley Bennett came to the door and they grabbed him and started out but before they got him to the steps someone said, "That is Charley Bennett, we don't want him," and let him come back and said, "We want the old man." They shot on the front porch and I heard my wife weaken and I knew I would have to face the music. They said they knew d— well there were two men here, and I had slipped out where another grown boy was sleeping and tried to get him to appear as the second man, but he just said, "Mr. Henry I am scared to death. I can't move." And so when I heard my wife ask them what they would do with me if she would bring me out and they told her they would not hurt me, they just wanted to talk to me and ask me some questions, and I knew then the gig was up with me, so I just walked out and said, gentlemen here I am, just let me get my socks. They said, "No need of socks."

I never witnessed such an angry, determined crowd in my life and no one else only those unfortunate ones they have visited. I had rather have been turned loose with twenty hungry lions with just a stick of stove wood than meet what I did. I had little time to reflect and made up my mind to be game to the last. I will have to say a good word for their first captain, he tried to keep them from running in and beating me while on the way to the tree. Some of them used so much violence he had to call captain No. 2, and all the way they mistreated me was to hold me to a tree some two and one-half feet through, lay on, two handed, haw bushes until their hearts were content.

They went off orderly, singing "Fire Burns Bright in the Old Kentucky Home," and whistling various tunes. The majority of them were under middle age to 18-year-old boys as they looked to me. Not having much time to spare I could not view them all. The older ones were guards as I saw it.

In the night I never got nervous at all, even when I saw the factory and distillery on fire. I did not think they wanted any thing else. Well, I will tell of my tobacco buying. For three years I have worked for salary; have not bought a crop of Black Patch or Association tobacco at all, unless the party lied to me. I always ask if their tobacco was pledged or not and if they said it was, that settled it for I was instructed by my client not to make any purchases from any association member and I have not bought any speculatively for three years and had my factory rented out. Last fall or summer when the organization was having their meetings in Dycusburg I offered to join and was refused by the chairman to accept my tobacco in the organization, and never in my life received any warning letters not to buy tobacco and if I had I certainly would not have bought any, as I have always been a farmer and not until fifteen years ago done anything else. I was forced to commence prizing my crops and have got good results for I learned different grades and how to put it up to demand best results. I always advise farmers to prize their own tobacco, but just a few had nerve to do it.

A word for my wife, she says there was someone in the crowd that said they would not hurt the sick boy, but when they saw their "beast of prey" appear you never heard such a yell of rejoicing.

JUDGE JIM HARGIS

Shot to Death by His Son at Jackson Thursday, Feb. 6.

Jackson, Ky., Feb. 7.—Former Judge James Hargis was shot and almost instantly killed by his son, Beach Hargis, a few minutes before 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The tragedy occurred in Judge Hargis' store and no one saw the beginning of the struggle. Beach Hargis had been drinking hard for several days, and this afternoon walked into his father's store. What occurred there no one seems to know. James Brophy, one of the clerks in the store, was waiting on a customer at the time. The building is a large double affair, three stories high. Brophy was the only clerk in the room where the shooting occurred. Mrs. G. R. Allen and Miss Coffee, Hargis' bookkeepers, were in the rear, but ran out and were too excited to give any coherent account of the matter.

Judge Hargis and his son were near the middle of the room when the shooting began. Young Hargis fired three shots in rapid succession, and Judge Hargis staggered back crying, "Oh, mercy, you have killed me," and called for help. Beach then fired two more shots, all taking effect in the abdomen and heart.

Deputy Marshall Govan Smith and Grover Blanton immediately arrested young Hargis and dragged him to jail. He fought like a maniac on his way to jail and had to be taken by sheer force.

The shooting was done with a 38 calibre Smith & Wesson revolver. There was much excitement in the town and in a few moments after the killing hundreds of people were crowding around the Hargis building.

A few nights ago it is alleged that Beach Hargis went home intoxicated and Judge Hargis had to subdue him by force and that high and bitter words passed between them. It is supposed that this was in the mind of young Hargis when he murdered his parent.

County Judge S. S. Taulbee immediately issued orders to the jailer to admit no one to the jail and after repeated attempts the newspaper correspondents abandoned their efforts to interview the prisoner. It was learned, however, that the young man said he did not recollect killing his father.

The Woodmen Growing.

The W. O. W. held their regular meeting Monday night. At each meeting there are from one to four initiated into the mysteries of Woodcraft. There were twelve applications for membership accepted at their meeting Monday night. Harmony and good will reign supreme among the boys and their meetings are always largely attended, interesting and instructive.

Mrs. Clark was assisted by Mrs. Mattie Weldon who proved to be a charming hostess.

Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

Those present were:—Mr. and Mrs. Burnett Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Guess, Misses Mattie Weldon, Fossie Shemwell, Frances Shepherd, Gustava McGrew, Etta Thomas, Edna Minner, Ruth Guess, Kathryn Hammond, Byrd Stephenson and Flora Stevenson. Messrs. Eugene Guess, Charles Lear, Dallas Dunning, John Guess, Warren Guess, Robert Thomas and Jack Shepherd.

Mayfield-Patton.

Monday morning at 8 o'clock, at the Gill House, in this city, Mr. Frank Mayfield and Miss Gertie Patton, both of Elizabethtown, Ill., were united in marriage, Rev. J. B. Adams, of the Methodist church officiating.

Form a Partnership.

Dr. I. H. Clement, of Tolu, has formed a partnership with Dr. J. O. Dixon, of this city, and will have his office in the Stegar building with Dr. Dixon. Drs. Clement and Dixon were partners once before in the practice of medicine and this new alliance or renewal of the old will be advantageous to both and to the community, which will now have the benefit of consultation and counsel of two of the county's most eminent physicians and surgeons.

We welcome Dr. Clement and his estimable family to our midst.

John Slaton Dead.

John Slaton, an aged and highly respected citizen of this county, died at his home one mile north of Marion Tuesday night, February 4th, 1908, at midnight, aged 85 years. He leaves three sons, Lyeurgus, Granville and Joseph, all of this county and six daughters, Mrs. Nannie Conger, Mrs. Emily Brown, Mrs. Mary Oliver, Mrs. Ada Gilbert, of this county and Mrs. Lula Bibb, of Morganfield, and Mrs. Melinda Martin, of Arkapsas.

He was not a member of any church.

His remains were laid to rest on Pilot Knob Thursday, Rev. E. B. Blackburn officiating.

In Memoriam.

Mrs. Elvie Cochran was born at Magnolia, Ill., March 5, 1870. Her parents were Rev. P. H. and Mrs. Sarah Crider. Rev. P. H. Crider was a prominent and well-known preacher in the Cumberland Presbyterian church and served that church in the various states of Pennsylvania, Illinois, Iowa and Kentucky. Her mother, Mrs. Sarah Crider, is still living at Marion, Ky., though in ill health. The elementary part of Mrs. Cochran's education was acquired in the public school, of Pennsylvania. In the Grammar Grades she was graduated in the schools of Chicago, Ill. Afterwards she completed the High School course at Potter College under the tutelage of Prof. Cabell.

She professed religion when nine years of age at Bethel church in Pennsylvania and joined that church. Although entering the Master's service at that tender age, yet her life proved her to be a devoted Christian.

She was married to T. H. Cochran April 25, 1895. It was a thoughtful, considerate union of hearts and lives, and it resulted in a happy home and in perfect devotion of husband and wife to each other.

When Mrs. Crider moved to Marion, she and Elvie united with the C. P. church. She remained in that church a faithful and efficient member until a short time before her death. She then united with the M. E. Church, South, in order that she and her husband might be in the same church. For years she was organist of the C. P. Church, teacher of the primary class in Sunday school, active member of the Aid Society, and Secretary of the Ladies' Missionary Society. In all these spheres she filled her place well.

She was a faithful member of the C. L. S. C. Circle, and always lent a helping hand to the promotion of all its interests.

She was queen of the home, dispelling gloom and sadness with her genial nature and making all feel welcome that entered these sacred precincts. She was a woman of fine judgment, well balanced, and filled with a spirit of true nobility. She was loyal to her friends. While she might chide them for their private faults, she would nobly defend them against any attacks which might be made from without.

She passed away sweetly and quietly, without the twitch of a nerve or the contraction of a muscle. She had expressed to her husband her perfect resignation to the will of her Redeemer, and in this sweet confidence she sank to sleep in His blessed arms. Her remains were committed to the tomb amid a profusion of floral designs and decorations which was an attestation of the warm place she held in many hearts. She is gone, but only to live with Jesus. She has left dear friends for a little while, only to meet them by and by in the beautiful. She has closed her eyes on earthly scenes, only to open them with enraptured vision amid the splendors of Paradise. She has dropped this earthly mantle of feeble dust, only to put on, after while, the radiant body of resurrected glory. She has dropped her earthly harp and scepter, only to wave the palms of victory and sweep celestial harps with deft fingers awakening the blissful harmonies of heaven.

Heart Strength

Heart strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nerve strength, or Nerve Weakness—nothing more. Positively, not one weak heart in a hundred is, in itself, actually diseased. It is almost always a hidden tiny little nerve that really is all at fault. This obscure nerve—the cardiac, or Heart Nerve—simply needs, and must have, more power, more stability, more controlling, more governing strength. Without that the heart must continue to fail, and the stomach and kidneys also have these same controlling nerves. This clearly explains why as a medicine, Dr. Shoop's Restorative has in the past done so much for weak and ailing hearts. Dr. Shoop first sought the cause of all this painful, palpitating, suffocating heart distress. Dr. Shoop's Restorative—this popular prescription—is alone directed to these weak and wasting nerve centers. It builds; it strengthens; it offers real, genuine heart help. If you would have strong hearts, strong digestion, strengthen these nerves—re-establish them as needed, with Marion, Ky.

Just a few lines in your paper to my friends in Crittenden county.

Ingram is located fifteen miles from the Pecos Valley railway, 135 miles Southwest of Amarillo, Tex., and 65 miles Northwest of Roswell, New Mexico. We are on the western slope of the plains which are only a continuation of the plains of West Texas. Our little town is about five months old. It is located eighteen miles Northwest of Elida in the prettiest country in Mexico. We have eighty acres for a town, though at present we have just one store, one mail route from Elida here and one from here to Chandall. The country surrounding Ingram is mostly of a chocolate red or sandy loam covered with mesquit, gramma, buffalo and other grasses. Water that is soft and free from alkali may be found at a depth of from 20 to 160 feet. One man with good team and farming implements can easily cultivate one hundred acres of this land. The altitude of this place is 3650 feet above the sea level, consequently there are no malaria, chills or fever. The climate cannot be excelled for asthma or any other lung or throat troubles.

Our crops here are corn, kafir corn, alfalfa, cotton, maize, millet, Irish and sweet potatoes and garden vegetables have been grown successfully.

Now let me say to my friends in Lyon and Crittenden counties who are working one half for the other, come to Mexico where you can get a farm given to you and then get all you make, not just half. We have a pretty country and a good one and I would be glad to see you do well.

Yours truly,

JAMES C. CLARK.

Letter From Missouri.

Campbell, Mo., Feb. 4.—Good evening to all the CRITTENDEN RECORD-PRESS readers. I guess all that know me will be surprised to hear from me. I hope my uncle will see this, as it has been some time since I heard from him. I live in Campbell, pretty town, has a fine brick school house, two story high, it has 18 rooms down stairs and 18 rooms up stairs, including the cloak rooms, in all there are 36 rooms. It certainly is a fine school. Three men teachers and the rest of the teachers are ladies. I have been going to school, but am not going now, as the small-pox is here in Campbell, there are three cases broke out now. My isn't this a dismal rainy day? I have been going to school every day, wanted to finish my education, and am sorry I had to stop.

As the money panic has struck Campbell, they are moving mills. We also have a fine Canning factory, cans tomatoes, corn, beans and all kinds of vegetables.

Campbell is in kind of a high place. We have a re-union meeting going on here now. We have five churches here, Missionary and General baptist, Methodist, Chirstain and Presbyterian.

We haven't had much winter here. Well uncle I want you to write to me. I will close as I am afraid the scrap basket will get this letter.

Your well wisher to the CRITTENDEN RECORD-PRESS and its many readers.

HATTIE LOTT,
Campbell, Mo.

A tickling cough, from any cause, is quickly stopped by Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. And it is so thoroughly harmless and safe that Dr. Shoop tells mothers everywhere to give it without hesitation even to very young babes. The wholesome green leaves and tender stems of a lung-healing mountainous shrub, furnish the curative properties to Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. It calms the cough, and heals the sore and sensitive bronchial membranes. No opium, no chloroform, nothing harsh used to injure or suppress. Simply a resinous plant extract, that helps to heal aching lungs. The Spaniards call this shrub which the Doctor uses, "The Sacred Herb." Demand Dr. Shoop's. Take no other. Sold by James H. Orme.

"Texas Bill" at Frances.

Mr. W. W. Moore alias "Texas Bill," of Mineola, Texas, who has been sojourning in our midst for the past thirty days, leaves for Texas this week. Bill was born and lived in Crittenden county until he was nineteen years of age, then he bled himself away to the great and glorious state of Texas. That was seventeen years ago and Bill now boasts of being an old-time Texan, having spent much of the past seventeen years in frontier life on the great plains of Texas.

Although a widower of thirty-six winters and quite as many summers,

Bill looks fifteen years younger and is as sprightly as a sixteen-year old boy. The people of Frances and surrounding community are very glad indeed to have Bill spend even as many as thirty days among us, for while he is of that plain, open, frank, modest and unassuming, pleasant, kind and courteous disposition, which is typical of the true type of Kentuckian, he is also a splendid conversationalist, laughable, jolly and good natured. A prince among good fellows and a humorist of the "Texas school." Among Texas steers Bill wields the lariat quite successfully, but the last account we had of him he was at a pound supper at Mr. Lem Hamby's resorting to trickery in order to get hold of a certain string tied around the neck of one of Kentucky's fairest and most charming widows. It remains to be seen whether he will lead her all the way to Texas. Come again, Bill, we all like you.

NEMO.

Stop that tickling Cough! Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure will surely stop it, and with perfect safety. It is so thoroughly harmless, that Dr. Shoop tells mothers to use nothing else even with very young babies. The wholesome green leaves and tender stems of a lung-healing mountainous shrub furnish the curative properties to Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. It calms the cough, and heals the sensitive bronchial membranes. No Opium, no chloroform nothing harsh used to injure or suppress. Demand Dr. Shoop's. Take no other. Sold by Jas. H. Orme.

Card of Thanks.

Editor PRESS-RECORD:—Will you allow me space in your good paper to express my sincere thanks to the friends, who so kindly assisted us in carrying for, and burying our precious dead. We have always loved the good people of Marion—ever since we first knew them—but that love has been intensified by their kindness, and sympathy shown to us in our great grief, in the sickness, and the death of my precious wife.

My relatives, who did not know the people of Marion, were moved to tears of gratitude when they saw the kindness extended to me in my sorrow; and while it was a sad trip to them, they carried away with them hearts overflowing with love for the people of Marion.

May the richest blessing of heaven be upon them, one and all.

H. C. Wolfe Resigns as Cashier.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Borden State Bank last Monday, H. C. Woolf who has been cashier of the bank since August, 1907, resigned. He gave as his reasons for so doing the following:
That on account of his late trouble with the bank in Missouri, which the general public is familiar with, and for fear that there were some who did not understand the situation and might feel a hesitancy in depositing in the Borden bank, he thought it might be better for some one to take until after the trouble is all settled at least. He said he wanted to do just what was best interest of the bank, that he held some of the stock and was going to keep it.

The Board of Directors passed the following resolution: "That the resignation of H. C. Wolfe as cashier be accepted with regret, and with the understanding that after his trial, now in the court, and after he is vindicated in the matter, should he again wish the position as cashier, it will be open to him."

Murray S. Wilson, the former cashier, was elected and took charge of the bank at once. Mr. Woolf left for Mississippi Tuesday night, where he will be secretary and treasurer for the Kentucky Tie Company.

The news of Mr. Woolf's resignation came as a surprise to the citizens of Borden and vicinity, as all have the utmost confidence in him as an honest, upright and efficient young man. No one doubts his innocence of the charge against him, and all hope to see him soon in his place among us.—Clark County Sentinel.

In Memoriam.

In memory of little Bertie Edwin, son of Edwin and Olivia Walker, who departed this life Nov. 1, 1907, aged two years, five months and twenty-three days. The funeral was conducted by Rev. G. W. May, of Chandler, Indiana, text 2 Sam. 11:23, from which he drew many comforting promises to the heart-broken family, after which loving hands laid the little body away in the Sugar Grove cemetery while their many friends covered the grave with beautiful flowers.

It is a sad duty to record the death of such a bright, beautiful child for whom there seemed so many bright promises. A father's pride, a mother's joy, but it seems that the choicest flowers are the ones first plucked and our home in heaven is made brighter by his presence there.

God makes no mistakes. We should be submissive to his will for "he doeth all things well." Remember that He said "Suffer little children to come unto me for such is the kingdom of heaven."

Dear father and mother although you miss little Edwin in the home and your hearts are all sad and everything seems so lonely, is it not sweet to know that he lives in a purer, brighter world than this? He cannot come back to you but you can go to him. Then weep not dear parents, little Edwin will meet you at the golden gate and you will know him as you knew him here.

To the good people of Blackford who were so kind and untiring in their efforts to relieve the little sufferer and stay the hand of death, we would say, when sickness and sorrow comes to your homes may somebody be just as kind, loving and good to you as you were to little Edwin.

BALANCE OF POWER

In the Kentucky Senatorial Contest Apparently Held by Liquor Men.

THEY MAY DECIDE ELECTION

It is Now Openly Hinted That Opponents of County Unit Bill Are Ready to Favor the Side That Favors Them—Some Interesting Capitol Gossip.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 4.—Another week has passed and the senatorial race seems no nearer a solution than it did three weeks ago. The deadlock still holds firm and unless the temperance question can cut the Gordian knot there is no prospect of an election at this session of the legislature. The temperance fight has already butted into the senatorial race, however, and may be the one thing that will cause an election. There are several members of the legislature who are reputed to be more strongly interested in preventing the passage of the bill extending the county unit law to every county in the state, than in the election of a senator or in any other legislation. If the Democrats or a majority of them, try to pass this bill then, it is asserted, that these liquor members will vote for and elect the Republican nominee for senator. If the Republicans vote and work for the county unit bill, then these liquor men will not vote for the Republican nominee. The liquor men seem to hold the balance of power and want to use it to further their interests. They are opposed to Beckham because of his temperance views, but they do not want to vote for Bradley unless the exigencies of the temperance bills require such a course. That is the situation now, and if anyone can guess what will happen he can do more than any man in Frankfort.

Senator Hubble of Lincoln county has introduced a bill in the senate which requires all legal reserve life insurance companies doing business in Kentucky to invest 80 per cent of the reserve on all outstanding policies issued in Kentucky, in Kentucky securities, such as state, county or city bonds, mortgages on real estate and mortgages on tobacco that is pooled by some responsible organization which is operated in the interest of the tobacco growers. The primary object of the bill is, of course, to prevent the enormous reserve funds of the big insurance companies from being held and invested in New York alone. The Kentucky legislature has no control of these insurance companies, it is true, but it can pass a law to the effect that no company can do business in Kentucky unless it invests a part of the money it earns from Kentucky policy holders in Kentucky securities. This same bill with the tobacco feature left out was introduced in the legislature two years ago, but the influence of the insurance companies smothered it. It will be quite a feather in Senator Hubble's cap if he can put his bill through and thus help the tobacco raisers bring the tobacco trust to terms.

Judging from the number of bills introduced, the members of this legislature are anxious to do something for both the living and dead soldiers. Senator Renaker has offered a bill providing for a pension of $125 per year to all disabled and indigent Confederate soldiers, and Senator Hogan offered one amending the law governing the Confederate Home so that a Confederate soldier who is entitled to become an inmate of the home may if he chooses remain with his family and draw the amount for his support that would be paid for his maintenance at the home. The bill to appropriate $25,000 for a monument or memorial to the Confederate and Union soldiers at the Vicksburg National park, Vicksburg, Miss., has already been approved by the senate committee and will likely pass without any serious opposition. This is considered a small amount when compared with the $200,000 appropriated for the same purpose by Illinois, $200,000 by Iowa, $100,000 by Little Rhode Island, and similar amounts by many other states. Kentucky was represented by twelve regiments at the siege of Vicksburg, including both the Union and Confederate forces, and she should not lag behind the other states in paying fitting tribute to her brave sons that fell on that famous battle ground.

Several bills have been introduced this session to make eight hours a legal day's work for several different classes of laboring men, but the legislature itself has much shorter hours than that. As a matter of fact the legislature does not learn how to work till the last three weeks of a session. For the biggest part of the sixty-day term they just loaf along and take things easy. They meet about 11 o'clock in the morning, go through with some unimportant routine work till noon, then take a ballot for United States senator and adjourn for the day. It is true that some committee meetings are held in the afternoon and at night, but so far this year the senatorial race seems to have demoralized all attempts to get down to hard work. It has been suggested that better results could be obtained if the legislators were paid a fixed salary for their full term instead of the five dollars a day they now receive. Senator Nat Cureton of Louisville has offered a bill providing that all legislators shall receive $40 per month for their full two-year term, and the lieutenant governor to receive $2,500 per year. It is not believed that this bill will pass, however, and if it should pass it would not apply to the present legislature, as the salary of an official cannot be changed after he has entered upon his duties.

Out of all the bills introduced looking to the securing of a better system of public roads, it is believed that some one good measure will be adopted. The constitution does not permit state aid to road-building, but state aid seems to be the only solution of the problem. With this idea in view, Senator Bosworth has introduced a bill providing for a vote on the proposition to so amend the constitution that the state may lend its credit to any county to help that county build good roads. The plan is to have a county vote to issue bonds for a certain amount to build roads, and then the state will endorse the bonds, and thus the money can be raised to carry on the work. Other states have even gone farther than this. In New York the state contributes 50 per cent of the cost of all roads. California and Colorado pay all the cost. Massachusetts pays all the cost, but requires the counties to refund one-half in six years. In Ohio the state pays 25 per cent, the county 50 per cent, the townships 15 per cent and the abutting property owners 10 per cent. In Pennsylvania the state pays 75 per cent. A large number of other states help the counties to a greater or less degree, to build the roads, and unless some measure is adopted by the legislature to promote road-building, Kentucky will soon drop behind her sister states and be known as the "mud-road state."

Kentucky has neglected her fish and game laws for so long or has failed to enforce them, that fish and game have almost become things of the past. Other states have rigid laws on this subject, and enforce them to the letter, but it has never been done in this state. In fact, there is an attempt at every session of the legislature to repeal the few restrictions as to fishing and hunting that are now on the statute books. Representative Hunter of Clark county has introduced a bill providing for the appointment of a state game and fish commission, that shall appoint a game warden. The bill further provides for a gun license for all hunters of $2 for pump or repeating guns and $1 for other guns. It also provides for a license of $1 for every fisherman who is a resident of the state and $5 for all non-residents, and limits the amount of game and fish that may be taken in any one day.

Representative W. C. McChord of Washington county has offered a bill that he thinks will to a great extent solve the tobacco troubles in this state. His bill provides, first, that all persons, companies, corporations or governments that are engaged in manufacturing or buying tobacco in this state must first procure a license to do so from the state commissioner of agriculture; second, it provides that it shall be unlawful for any person engaged in growing tobacco to put on any growing plants any poisonous substance for the purpose of destroying worms or insects or for any other purpose; third, it makes it unlawful for any person having the possession of tobacco, the title of which is vested in another, to sell or otherwise dispose of such tobacco without the consent of the person in whom the title is vested. The latter clause is to prevent anyone who has pooled his tobacco from taking it out of the pool and selling it to the "trust."

About the first bill to pass the senate was the Bosworth bill, which authorizes, under certain conditions and restrictions, the use of the public highways, roads and turnpikes by persons, firms or corporations engaged in the manufacture, transmission and distribution of electricity for lighting, heating and power purposes. The conditions and restrictions are that the fixtures of the said companies shall not in any way interfere with travel on public roads and the said transmission lines shall be under the reasonable control of the authorities having control of the roads. Nothing in the act shall be construed to prevent the property owners from obtaining damages for such rights, and the act shall not apply to any incorporated town or city.

HELPFUL ADVICE

You won't tell your family doctor the whole story about your private illness—you are too modest. You need not be afraid to tell Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., the things you could not explain to the doctor. Your letter will be held in the strictest confidence. From her vast correspondence with sick women during the past thirty years she may have gained the very knowledge that will help your case. Such letters as the following, from grateful women, establish beyond a doubt the power of

to conquer all female diseases. Mrs. Norman R. Barndt, of Allentown, Pa., writes:

"Ever since I was sixteen years of age I had suffered from an organic derangement and female weakness; in consequence I had dreadful headaches and was extremely nervous. My physician said I must go through an operation to get well. A friend told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I took it and wrote you for advice, following your directions carefully, and thanks to you I am today a well woman, and I am telling all my friends of my experience."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, nervous prostration,

DANGER OF CATARRH.

Unless Properly Treated with Hyomei, Becomes Serious.

Catarrhal troubles are far more dangerous than they seem at first thought.

If you have catarrh, there is an irritated state of the mucous membrane and weakened tissues which afford an ideal lodgment and culture medium for disease germs, especially those of consumption.

You should get cured as quickly as possible before any dangerous germs that you may breathe lodge on the diseased tissue and work destruction in the throat and lungs.

The easiest, simplest, quickest, surest and cheapest way to cure catarrh is by the direct method, breathing Hyomei. This wonderful medicated air treatment does not drug and derange the stomach, but is breathed in, directly following and destroying all disease germs that may have been inhaled.

The unusual way in which Hyomei is sold by Haynes & Taylor is the best evidence of their confidence in the treatment and should dispel all doubt as to its curative properties. Haynes & Taylor agree to refund the purchase price to anyone whom Hyomei fails to benefit, and you do not risk a cent in testing its healing virtues. A complete outfit costs but $1.00 if it helps you, not a cent if it does not do all that is claimed for it.

Now dear readers of the Press, that do not belong to the F. E. & C. U. of A., here is the first three articles of faith, as you may call it. 1st. To secure justice to every man. 2nd. To secure equity. 3rd. To apply the golden rule, that is, do unto others as you would have them do unto you. Is there any thing wrong about that. Then we are not to disturb the tranquility of any home in any manner. How much does this cover, what does it leave out. Now friends, if you want to be right and want to do all you can for God and man, it behooves you to become a member of the union, and one more thing it does not conflict with your religious or political views.

Letter From J. F. Loyd.

Our friend Frank Loyd has sent us a picture of himself and a party of friends taken after a hunt in which 723 rabbits were killed, also one wolf and two opossums, all of which are heaped in one pile almost as high as a man's head and thirty to thirty-five feet long, apparently. However the above is not all, just read his letter.

Hoxie, Kansas, Jan. 29, 1908.

Dear Marshall, come out and help us hunt if you want sport. We have had about fifteen rabbit hunts. I send you a picture of one of our hunts. It was a cold day, only about half of our regular crowd was present, we generally meet out in the country, therefore, seldom get a picture of our pile of Jacks.

The best days hunt was 1650 Jacks. Jack rabbits weigh about eight pounds, thirteen pounds was the largest I have weighed. Wolves are getting so thick. Wolf drives are all the go now, they are very exciting, get as many a seven or eight sometimes in one drive. Show the boys this picture, that they may have some idea what three tons of Jack rabbits look like.

To Our Subscribers.

The following postal law compels us to adopt a uniform rule of discontinuing all papers where the subscription is one year in arrears. In future we will do this as rapidly as we can arrange our large list and make proper deductions.

CRITTENDEN RECORD-PRESS.

Newspapers Affected By New Postal Regulation.

Washington, Jan. 2.—The post master general has promulgated a new regulation in regard to the newspaper postage, effective yesterday, of vast importance to the newspapers of the country. It reads:

"A reasonable time will be allowed publishers to secure renewals of subscriptions, but they must be renewed after the term for which they are paid within the following periods: Dailies, within three months; triweeklies within six months; semi-weeklies within nine months; weeklies, within one year; semi-monthlies, within four months; bimonthlies, within six months, and quarterlies within six months. Otherwise they shall not be counted in the legitimate list of subscribers, and copies mailed on account thereof shall not be accepted for mailing at second-class postage rate, but be mailed at the transient second-class rate of 1 cent for every 4 ounces."

The effect of this is to require a newspaper to put a 1-cent stamp on every paper where the subscriber is in arrears for the periods fixed above.

Perfected Wheat Positively Cures Constipation.

Is the root of most of the ills that afflict humanity. By the stoppage of the waste matter, the body becomes clogged with impurities and poisons. These poisons are carried to all parts of the system by the blood, deadening tissues and nerves, resulting in Neurasthenia, Rheumatism, Bright's Disease, Dropsy and dozens of other ailments.

Within three days after the first meal of Perfected Wheat the bowels become normal and move regularly.

Perfected Wheat is a purifier as well as a cleaner. It purifies, sweetens and tones up the internal vital organs.

Perfected wheat is a breakfast-dinner-supper food, specially prepared by a scientific process, at middlesborough, Kentucky, and is crisp ready-to-eat. Trial package for $1. If you are in ill health write to Dorth Campbell, the manufacturer of Perfected Wheat, at Middlesborough, Kentucky. He will send you a booklet about this wonderful food and how raw foods cure. tf.

Feeling a Critic.

What can be more mirth provoking than the naive simplicity with which a pompous critic, who prides himself on his lynx eyed acuteness, will sometimes walk into a trap that has been set for him? When Alexander Pope was translating Homer he read by request several books of the "Iliad" to Lord Halifax, whom he characterized as a literary excubant, at his house. During the reading his lordship several times stopped the poet and suggested that certain passages might be improved. Perplexed and irritated by the advice, the poet withdrew with Garth, who laughed heartily at the incident, and told him to leave the verses just as they were, to call on Halifax a month later, thank him for his criticisms and then read again the verses to him unaltered. Pope followed this advice, saying to Halifax that he hoped his lordship would now find his objections removed, upon which Halifax, delighted, cried out: "Aye, now they are perfectly right. Nothing can be better."
